Weekly News May 1st

Dear Archers and Parents,

We hope this Newsletter finds you well. We have 17 school days remaining for this year; we are encouraging our students to remember and practice their Citizenship core value until the end. I want to personally congratulate our student Abigail W. as she was accepted to the ASU Fleischer Scholars Program, which allows her to discover career paths in business. In addition, after receiving a recommendation from a Maricopa PD Sergeant, she was also accepted into the Arizona Leadership Education and Development Academy, which will be run at the NAU College Campus and be facilitated by the FBI National Academy Associates. Way to go Abby!

NWEA Testing

The FINAL NWEA Benchmark tests will be May 9-10th. While not a state assessment, this is a very important test to show what your student has learned from August until now. This test is all about growth! Please encourage your student to come to school prepared (a good night's rest, eating a healthy breakfast, etc.) Thank you for your support!

Teacher Appreciation Week May 8-12

NHS and Student Council are putting some great items together for our teachers next week and would like your help! Please see the flyers below for items and donations that would be greatly appreciated.

Kind regards,
Rachele Reese
